This information is provided to meet the requirements of the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act of 1998. STATEMENT OF CURRENT POLICIES REGARDING PROCEDURES FOR STUDENTS AND OTHERS TO REPORT CRIMINAL ACTIONS

New England Tractor Trailer Training School encourages that students, faculty, and staff report any crimes and/or public safety related incidents to the Campus Director (if the director is not available then the Registrar's office will act as the official designee). The Campus Director (or otherwise stated designee) acts as the law enforcement unit for the institution since the school does not have a campus police department. Students, staff and faculty are encouraged to report these instances in a prompt and timely manner to the Campus Director (or designee) who will call the local authorities for assistance and/or investigation. An Accident/Incident Investigation Report Form is completed by the person reporting the action. The Campus Director (or designee) will follow-up on the report and address any preventative actions to insure the safety and security of all staff, faculty and students, in the event of a significant emergency or dangerous situation that poses an immediate threat the Campus Director (or designee) will issue a timely emergency notification by form of public address, sending a school official to the classrooms, or an alternative method.

Students, faculty and staff should report all emergencies involving a crime in process, a medical emergency, and/or fire to 911 in a timely manner. After calling 911 the student, faculty or staff member should then notify the Campus Director of this incident.

STATEMENT OF THE POLICY REGARDING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, DATING VIOLENCE, SEXUAL ASSAULT AND STALKING

Student Disciplinary Procedures

New England Tractor Trailer Training School will, upon written request, disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence, or a non-forcible sex offense, the results of any disciplinary hearing conducted by the Institution against the student who is the alleged perpetrator of the crime or offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as a result of crime or offense, the Institution will provide the results of the disciplinary hearing to the victim's next of kin, if requested. Individuals who are found to have violated any of the Student Code of Conduct or any of the following policies may be disciplined by New England Tractor Trailer Training School. Disciplinary actions may include suspension or expulsion from school.

Disclosure to Victims of Crimes of Violence or Non-Forcible Sex Offense

New England Tractor Trailer Training School is committed to providing a place of learning and work that is free of violence, including all forms of sexual violence, harassment, intimidation or exploitation. The School does not tolerate any sexual assault or gender-based violence or misconduct or any behavior that puts the community at greater risk for such behaviors. Gender-based misconduct includes domestic violence, dating violence, stalking and any type of gender-based harassment or intimidation. The following sections address the School's policies and resources for prevention, education, and response services regarding these behaviors.

Sexual Assault

Sexual Assault includes any sexual act directed against another person, forcibly and/or against that person's will, or not forcibly or against the person's will where the victim is incapable of giving consent, including forcible rape, forcible sodomy, sexual assault with an object and forcible fondling. Sexual assault includes unlawful, non-forcible sex offenses, including incest (non-forcible sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law) and statutory rape (non-forcible sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent).

Consent

Consent is based on choice. Consent is an intelligent, voluntary, informed decision by someone capable of making such a decision. In order for there to be consent in a sexual situation, there must be an affirmative statement or action by each participant. Consent does exist if coercion, threats, intimidation, or physical force are used. If someone is mentally or physically incapacitated or impaired such that they are temporarily or permanently incapable of appraising the sexual situation or controlling their own conduct, there can be no consent in the situation. This includes such impairment or incapacitation resulting from the consumption of alcohol or drugs. Whether a person has used a position of authority or influence to take advantage of another person will be a consideration in determining whether consent exists in a sexual situation.

A person is legally incapable of giving consent if he or she is:

- Under the age of 18;
- Incapacitated or impaired as describe above by alcohol or other drugs;
- Developmentally disabled; or
- Temporarily or permanently mentally or physically unable to do so

STEPS TO TAKE IF YOU HAVE BEEN SEXUALLY ASSAULTED

Get to a Safe Place

Your immediate safety is your first priority. If you are in danger, you should call 911. Stay on the phone as long as you can until help arrives.

Remember that the police will help you whether or not you choose to prosecute the assailant. Call a trusted friend or family member for support and/or the victim- assistance services offered by your community or law enforcement agencies.

Get Medical Attention

A medical examination is to check for physical injury, the presence of sexually transmitted diseases, or pregnancy as a result of the assault. A medical examination will also aid in the police investigation and legal proceedings.

If the assault was recent, don't bath

Bathing might be the first thing you want to do, but you may be washing away evidence needed to prosecute the assailant. Wait until you have a medical examination.

Save your clothing

Changing your clothes is alright, but save the clothing you were wearing at the time of the assault. Place each item of clothing in a separate paper bag and give them to the authorities. Your clothing could be used as evidence.

RELATIONSHIP ABUSE AND DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

Relationship violence may be present in dating and domestic violence, sometimes called intimate Partner violence, is a pattern of behavior in which one partner uses fear and intimidation to establish power and control over the other partner, often including the threat or use of violence. This abuse happens when one person believes they are entitled to control another, and it may or may not include sexual assault. Dating and domestic violence occur in all relationships whether they are straight or same-sex relationships. Intimate partner violence impacts people from all ethnicities, races, classes and nationalities. There may be some general patterns in domestic or dating violence, there is no typical abusive behavior. To wear down and control the victim and abuser may use isolation, emotional harassment, physical contact, intimidation, or other means. The controlling behavior usually escalates if the victim of the abuse tries to resist or leave. In a violent relationship, behaviors are used to maintain fear, intimidation, and power over another person. These behaviors may take the form of physical, sexual, emotional, and psychological violence.

STALKING

Stalking is any behaviors or activities occurring on more than one occasion that would instill fear in the victim and/or threaten their safety, mental health and/or physical health. Acts of stalking may include acts in which the stalker, either directly, indirectly, or thorough a third party, follows, monitors, observes, threatens, communicates to or about a person, or interferes with a person's property. Stalking may include communication through electronic communication such as text messages or social media.

If you believe you are being stalked:

- Document, Document, Document- keep a log with the date, time, location, means.

While we encourage you to report the incident to the police, this is entirely your choice. You have rights and will receive help from the School regardless of whether or not you report it. Victims of sexual assaults may feel embarrassed, guilty, or fear of retaliation. These are normal emotions. If you know who your attacker is, we encourage you to pursue an injunction for protection order with the courts. If you choose to pursue this option, please list New England Tractor Trailer Training School as a restricted location and we will comply with all court- order injunctions
